Letter From The President

Thank you to all who came and participated in the Annual General Membership meeting and banquet at Remington Park in OKC on January 26th. Congratulations goes to all the 2018 year-end award winners! We had some good discussions at the meeting. It was great to see all the interest and energy.

We now have four new members of the ODS Board of Directors. Their names can be found on the last page of this newsletter. We have already had our first Board meeting with the new team - on February 13th. There are lots of new ideas and energy! Look for some exciting new opportunities to be announced later this year.

The Symposium with Christine Traurig is coming up fast! If you are interested in being a rider, please contact Kay Kamish. She already has received several applications with more coming in. Details are on the flyer on page 3-4 of this newsletter.

I have been working with the volunteer piece of the website. I have set up several committees and entered names of those who signed up at the AGM, or otherwise informed ODS of their interest to help. So if you get a mysterious email regarding volunteering...that is why! If you are interested in serving on a committee you can sign up on the web. If a committee shows that it is full, please email me directly and I can add more positions to accommodate you. Other than the show committee, contacts or chairpersons have not yet been assigned. Please note that the times and dates listed are placeholders only. As always, if you have comments or ideas for the ODS Board, please let me know!

Happy Riding!

ODS Member Receives $1000 From The Dressage Foundation

TDF's Carol Lavell Gifted Memorial Fund Awards $11,000 to Adult Amateur Riders

The Dressage Foundation is proud to announce this year's recipients of the Carol Lavell Gifted Memorial Fund Scholarships for Adult Amateurs. Each will receive a $1,000 scholarship to enable them to set aside quality time in concentrated training with their horse, trainer of choice, and away from the daily pressures of job and family.

"Thanks to the generosity of Carol Lavell, her family, and friends, we are pleased to provide this financial support to adult amateurs who not only make time to further their dressage education, but who are tremendous volunteers for their dressage clubs," said Jenny Johnson, Executive Director of The Dressage Foundation. "This year we received a great number of high-quality applications from amateurs across the country, which made the decision difficult for the selection committee. We are thrilled to award all 11 available grants from the Gifted Fund this year, which is the first time that we've been able to do so!"

Nancy Trait-Lira

Up to eleven $1,000 grants are available each year - one per United States Dressage Federation Region and two wild card grants that can be awarded in any Region.

Evie Tumlin Memorial Fund for Region 9 AAs - Due March 31

Evie Tumlin was an integral part of her Region 9 dressage and eventing community. Throughout her years of serving and helping others, she touched many lives and helped to raise several generations of young men and women who loved horses. This Fund was established in memory of Evie by her friends and colleagues in Region 9. Among her many accomplishments, Evie was the founder of the Mississippi Eventing and Dressage Association, named the 2010 Region 9 Horseperson of the Year, was a USDF L Program Graduate, received her USDF Silver Medal, and was a member of TDF's Century Club. She was a much-loved instructor and trainer in Mississippi, and even worked with the Oxford Mounted Police unit.

Grants:

The goal of the Evie Tumlin Memorial Fund is to provide financial assistance to Adult Amateur riders who currently reside in USDF Region 9, to aid in their development in dressage. Grants will typically range in the amount of $250 - $750, to be used for educational experiences that will further the applicant's knowledge of dressage and are in addition to the applicant's typical training plan. These events may include (cont'd pg 16)

USDF Trainers Conference

January 20 – 21, 2019

Featuring George Williams, Christine Traurig,
Charlotte Bredahl, Debbie McDonald

In January three of Oklahoma's professionals, Sherry Guess, Nancy Burba, and I, made the trip to the annual USDF Trainers Conference in Florida. Between the three of us, there are two who are Certified Instructors, two who are "L" Graduates with Distinction, and two who have their Bronze and Silver Medals. You might ask why, with all our combined experience and achievements, would we make yet another trip to this educational event? We have all been several times before, and we all return for the same reason ~ to refresh our eyes and fill our minds with how dressage can and should be ridden. It is not that we expected to hear something new or startling, but we wanted and needed to hear the principles repeated and see them demonstrated by exceptional horses and riders. And to remember what it is that makes them exceptional.

Qualities of that exceptional riding:

*attentiveness of the riders. They were completely aware of every footfall, helped to maintain the regularity through every corner, change of direction, transition. They knew as soon as the horses shifted their balance and helped correct it before it became an irregular or hurried step *they helped infuse a bit of power into the gait without resulting in speed. This power, combined with the regularity, led to gaits, especially the trots, that became cadenced. Our coach, Sarah Martin, was with us and she and I discussed this quality. In that sense, the trots were 'manufactured' as a result of very correct riding. The riders were able to influence the horses to become more than what they otherwise would be or would offer, until these very precise, cadenced trots became their norm.

*being prepared. The riders had their horses so attentive and on the aids, that is, tuned to their seat influence, that they responded to direction immediately. Many times the instructor asked for a transition or movement and within two or three steps the riders executed what had been asked for. That meant horses were kept in balance 100% of the time, ready to respond to the slightest of aids.

*riding in alignment, another way of saying in balance. All riders were so secure in their position and had the core strength to remain there without struggling and unbalancing their horse. That also allowed for hands that never balanced or pulled on the horses, but followed the movement.

*subtle maintenance of suppleness and thoroughness with finesse. Never was there a moment when a rider used strength and leverage (which is force) against a horse. An example of this was bringing a

(cont'd from previous page) horse from free walk back up to contact. We all know that moment when the horses will stiffen their back or neck, but this rider asked for a slight step sideways to leg yield rather than tighten the reins against the horse. There was never a confrontation, so the transition from free to collected walk became seamless.

Another benefit of attending this conference was to be able to watch Christine Traurig, and get a preview of how she will teach when she comes to Oklahoma for our Spring Symposium April 6, 7, 2019.

I can tell you, we are in for a treat! We all agreed that we liked Christine best of the four instructors. She was very clear in what she asked for, explained what she was after with the exercises, frequently spoke about her philosophy of training, especially when dealing with young horses. She is the USDF National Coach for Young Dressage Horses, and watching her work with a 5yo and 6yo made it clear why she excels in that position. She was very engaged with the riders, enthusiastic about coaching them to encourage their young horses, clear with her directions and why she was setting up exercises. Here are some of the highlights from my pages of notes I took during her teaching:

- *Developing the young horse is all about relaxation and confidence.
- *Contact is a principle of trust in the rider's hands
- *Reward your horse by momentarily becoming neutral with your aids.
- *Keep the ribcage supple and activate the inside hind leg
- *Be patient for a few steps until the horse figures out how to soften into the bend
- *It is critical to feel the connection from hind legs into bit/hand, especially in the early years
- *Christine doesn't care about the "expression" of the trot until the relaxation and suppleness are in order
- *At any time in training you should feel you could allow a stretch circle. Any horse, at any level, should be willing to stretch, to go into contact.
- *A horse that is tight, not supple, in the back or neck, cannot work right in the hind end. It is like a 'stop light' to the flow. Especially in the loin or SI area.
- *If you feel the horse loses balance and falls to the forehand, go on a bending line. Don't pull!
- *Riders must always be aware of what the hind legs are doing.
- *Reward the effort, the attempt your horse makes! Nothing is perfect.
- *Components of engagement: the hindlegs committed to carrying and pushing. The hind legs must be accessible.
- *Make sure any correction you make allows you to ride the exercise more correctly.

I can't say strongly enough how valuable this level of education is. If there is any way any of you can make it to any USDF Symposium, do it! In the meantime, we are so very fortunate to be bringing this quality to Oklahoma for our own Symposium. Come see what I'm talking about! Join us when Christine comes to teach in April! Check the ODS Website for more information, or contact me!
